The opponents of the bill to amend the city charter claim to have scored a victory before the Senate committee last night, and are apparently in fine humor to-day in consequence. The friends of the measure, however, before the triangle of the measure, however, before the triangle of the senate to the triangle of the senate to the triangle of the triangle of the senate to the triangle of the senate to the triangle of the senate to th lieve that it will yet be passed by the Legislature. Counsel for the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company have succeeded in their efforts to obtain a new trial of the suit of William Johnson (colored) rs. the company, in which the jury recently rendered a verdict of $900 for the plaintiff, for injuries sustained while coupling cars at Suffolk. The second ial, however, will not take place uring the present term.

There are at present ten lunatics con-fined in the city jail—six of them col-ored and four white. The asylums apear to be so full as to afford no room for these unfortunates. The sergeant has made every effort in his power to get them into the asylums.

One of the assistants of the Commis sioner of the Revenue while making his rounds to-day taking lists of taxable property was introduced to a family in the third story of a large house in the lower part of the city. He found among the inmates of one of the rooms a large hog, in fine condition, and apparently enjoying the same freedom of the apartnts as his owners. The officer marked the porker down on his list, and then, to satisfy his curiosity, asked by what means they had gotten such a large hog up to the third-story floor. He was informed the animal had been brought up in the hands when a tiny pig, and there grown to maturity. ROBIN ADAIR.

Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch. FEBRUARY 11, 1886. The University committee of the Legislature began their work yesterday. Lectures were very generally suspended, and the professors conferred at length with the committee, it is reported. What scope their investigations will take, or what the committee has done thus far, has not been made public. The committee are guests of different

One night last week Mr. John Harris fell or was thrown from the platform which surrounds the Chesapeake and Ohio freight depot, and was rendered enseless by striking his head against the iron rail of the track. The injury was thought to be slight at first, but his recovery is now a matter of doubt. He is delirious much of the time, and no doubt his skull was fractured. His brother, Captain Harris, of the Lynchburg fire department, and his mother are with him.

South Boston, Feb. 11, 1886.

My letter of the 9th was correct as far as it went in regard to the killing of Mr. John R. Bates at Republican Grove last Saturday by Mr. John W. Cousins. A correspondent writes me it is thought Bates, his brother, and Hancock came to the village for the nurpose of engaging in a row, and when surpose of engaging in a row, and when surp spondence of the Richmond Dispatch purpose of engaging in a row, and when Bates's friend Hancock was knocked down by a Mr. Davis Bates at once threw himself into the milie. As he did so Mr. Cousins and several others standing by interfered in the interest of fair play. This seemed to madden standing by interfered in the interest of fair play. Major R. L. Ragland, of this county, who has gained a national reputation as an authority on tobacco-growing, has written a paper on "Tobacco Culture in Georgia." Major Ragland, who seems to have studied the soil and climate of Georgia, advances the opinion mate of Georgia, advances the opinion that North Georgia and some of the lower-coast counties offer excellent facilities for the successful cultivation of yellow tobacco. These localities, he says, resemble East Tennessee and the portions of North Carolina where the finer grades of tobacco are raised.

A FEARFUL PERIL.

A Passenger-Train Narrowly Escapes Being Engulfed in a "Cave-In."

A Shenandoah (Pa.) special says The Philadelphia and Reading railroad will sooner or later be called upon to answer, not only for the destruction of their own property, but for the loss of many lives, if they persist in running trains over the Shenandoah branch of their road in its present dangerous condition. One of the most miraculous escapes known to the railroad men in this section was made by the passenger-train which left Mahanoy Plane at twenty minutes past 5, ca route for Shenandoah, the terminus of the branch. There were probably one hundred or more passengers aboard, and as the train approached the scene of so many "cave-ins" there was no indication or warning of danger.
